

指導用 Power Point

本文（全文読み）

Malala Yousafzai was born in 1997 in the Swat Valley in Pakistan. There, women traditionally did not have the same rights that men had. Most girls could not attend school. Women could not have jobs outside the home. Their " jobs " in life were to do housework and give birth to children.

Malala's father was a teacher. He ran his own school, and he sent her to it. He thought that women should have the opportunity to get an education.

Her father's way of thinking has had a great influence on her. As she grew older, Malala became more eager to end the tradition. She came to believe that women should be treated equally.

Final Task

(1) Why are the Taliban members against girls' education?

(例) Because they are afraid of the equality that women will bring into their society. / Because they don't know what is written inside a book.

(2) Malala said, "Let us pick up our books and pens. They are the most powerful weapons." Why did she say this?

(例) Because she thinks education is the only solution to illiteracy, poverty and terrorism.
